Welcome to the Pylet

---

We publish this magazine for you as a reminder of your experience at Camp. You can see pictures of you and your friends, activities, and remember what it was like at camp. Share the lessons you learned and the fun you had with your family and school friends as you show them your Pylet from the summer of 1994!

Dedication

This year's Pylet is dedicated to Sean "Treb" Shields. Treb was a camper from the Camarillo Boys and Girls Club. He earned the privilege to return as a Lioneer and eventually became a group counselor. He will always be remembered for his intelligence, warm personality, sense of humor, singing, and his great big heart. Treb loved to sing. During his "Pyles Leadership Training" backpacking trip, Treb would sing out with his beautiful voice, "the hills are alive with the sound of music." Indeed, the hills are alive with the sound of music. We will miss our dear friend and brother.

Tribute to Tex Cunningham

"Gone Fishing"

Tex Cunningham

Pyles Camp has been blessed from the very beginning with volunteers of sterling character who worked hard for the Camp because they believed deeply in what Pyles stands for. These outstanding individuals are one of the key reasons Pyles Camp has been so successful.

It is with a sad note that we say good-bye to one such individual, Tex Cunningham. Tex volunteered his services to Pyles Camp for over 25 years. His easy going charm and deep love of people helped create the positive atmosphere our work parties are known for.

A tireless worker, Tex always found time for a friendly chat and to enjoy his surroundings. His spirit will be carried on by his son, Tom, who has been a work party regular for over 13 years. Tex enjoyed life. He loved helping people and we loved him. Thank you Tex for all your love and dedication.

I would like to thank David Shinn for providing the cover photo for the 1994 issue of the Pylet. I would also like to extend a sincere thanks to my friend, Juan Carlo, from the Ventura County Star-Free Press for furnishing photographs for the Pylet as well. Thanks!

Message from Bravo

Dear Friends,

In this milestone year I experienced a wide variety of challenges that resulted in moments of victory, defeat, happiness, and sadness. All in all it was a significant year of growth. Some of my victories included working with an outstanding group of young men, our staff, and watching you mature during your stay at camp. The defeats were sending uncooperative campers home which is never easy, but necessary. Happy moments are hearing that Pyles Boys Camp has had a positive affect on your life and that things have improved because you took responsibility for your actions by making wise choices. This year also had its share of sadness with the deaths of cherished friends, the most precious being my father (a good dad is an untold treasure). There's a saying that helps me smile and to be strong when I think of my dad. It's written by Ralph Waldo Emerson, "What lies behind us and what lies before us are tiny matters compared to what lies within us." I wish you a year of growth. Remember the goodness in your heart is what matters. Go out and make your life count. . .

In the Camp Spirit,
Bravo

Message from Rocky

Dear Pyles Camp Camper,

Many of you did not get to know me this summer. As the Executive Director, most of my time is spent in our Valencia office.

However, I too was a camper at Pyles Camp in 1969. Even though 25 years have past, I remember the feelings of fear, excitement and most of all the feeling that I had learned something important during my two week stay.

I learned to believe in myself. I learned that hard work and setting goals were the path to accomplish whatever I wanted to accomplish with my life.

What did you learn this summer? I hope it was something similar. The hard part now is applying those lessons to your daily life. It is easy at Camp to shine and be strong. It is often hard when confronted with the everyday pressures of life. Write them down, review them, practice them.

If you do, you will accomplish your goals. Be the driver of you life, not a passenger!

—Rocky

Message from Dodger

Dear Pyles Camp Camper,

The summer of 1994 has long been over and now you are back in the swing of things. All that is left are the great memories, memories that I hope will be relived as you glance thru the pages of this Pylet, but also memories that will be with you for a lifetime.

I was a camper in 1985. This summer marked my tenth year of being associated with Pyles Boys Camp. Ten years of feeling good about myself and others. During your camp experience, many of you, just like I did when I was a camper, met the challenges and learned more about yourself than you ever thought possible. As I reflect back, I can honestly say that hiking up mountains, whether it was Jerky or Coyote Lakes trail have been the most challenging, and difficult, yet the most rewarding experiences of my entire life because I gained a new outlook about myself. With this new confidence I was able to break away from the negative cycles in my barrio, which involved gangs and drugs. Also, I was able to finish high school with honors, complete college, and deal with personal and family problems, all thanks to the lessons learned from conquering those tough mountains. I compare life to a mountain because life is not an easy climb. In order for you to feel good about yourself you have to be persistent in reaching the top. Life confronts you with many obstacles, but don't be intimidated. On the contrary, overcome them with great determination and belief, and in return you will receive selfworth and sense of accomplishment. There is a message that inspires me and I would like to share it with you... "Challenges—Accept the challenges so that you may feel the exhilaration of victory."

You were key in making the summer of 1994 a great success. Now I challenge you to make your life a success. Your role models are the future of today, but you are the future of tomorrow. What are you going to do with your future?...Take care and God Bless You!

—Dodger

Message from Waldo, the Editor

Dear Pyles Camp Camper,

When I was a camper back in 1989, my counselor "Scorpio" taught me a very important thing: to set goals. Since then I have set short and long term goals.

My short term goal during the summer was to at least touch one of your lives. If I have done so, then I've met my goal. Now, my next short term goal is to someday be publisher and owner of my very own magazine. I am on the path to accomplishing this goal by working on many desktop publications, like this year's "Pylet."

I would like to thank Bravo, Peanut, Rocky and Dodger for giving me this opportunity to work on the Pylet and believing in the work that I do. It has been a challenge, and I'm happy to say that I did not only accomplish this challenge, but I also learned so much by overcoming it.

My long term and ultimate goal it to become an elementary school teacher and counselor. I consider it "recycling." Teachers and counselors touched my life, I want to touch others lives. Teachers show and teach me, I teach others.

What's your goal? No matter what it may be, you CAN accomplish it. Just set your mind and heart to it, and you will succeed!

Staff Profile

Like many of us, growing up was very difficult for Fernando "Zorro" James Ortiz. Migrating twice, from Uruapan, Michoacan where he was born to Tijuana, B.C. and then from Tijuana to the City of Orange. Zorro had to learn to live between two cultures

That of his family and that of his school life. The struggle was to adapt his language, behavior, and eventually his thoughts to accommodate both cultures without compromising either.

"I have always regarded my family as my foundation," states Zorro who had come to realize that his parents struggled so much during their lives simply to give a better education and life for him and his other family members. Through family and financial struggles, his parents stood strong. "My parents' resolve and love of life have taught me the most important lessons in life; to be a good person, to love others, to be compassionate, to never deny who you are or where you come from," stated Zorro.

At 13, Zorro received the opportunity to attend Pyles Boys Camp. "I was overwhelmed with the experience and took advantage of everything there was," Zorro stated. "I vividly remember many things about the experience; the hike up Jerky, swimming at the pot holes, being cold at night, the campfire, cabin inspection, work detail and of course, Nana's cooking," he added.

Zorro was invited back to participate in the 2nd year program, Lion Meadows. He clearly remembers helping build the log cabin at Lion which is now used as a storage shed. For Zorro, Lion Meadows was a place of growing and learning about one self. He returned year after year and became a counselor, assistant director, and Lion Meadows director.

"I feel that the camp has provided me with a support that is difficult to explain. There is a sense of strength in the camp that each of us takes home at the end of the summer. A strength that we get from the boys we serve. These young men instill a hope in us that only we can see. By allowing us into their lives and being able to be a strong part of their lives gives up an unexplainable feeling of power."

Personally, Zorro uses the camp as an inspiration in times of need. He thinks about the kids and the challenges that they face at home and at camp when things get rough. Those thoughts revitalize and encourage him to go on and conquer the obstacles that come his way.

Currently, Zorro is enrolled at UC Riverside where he is working to receive a Ph. D. in Developmental Psychology. He has an M. A. and is working on research projects on "how our ideas about culture are affected by the language we speak where our parents and grandparents were born and the types of people we hang out with."

We, the Pyles Boys Camp staff, are proud of Zorro and his many accomplishments. He is not only an asset to the camp, but to the community as well! GOOD JOB, ZORRO!!!!

Staff Training Session

This year's training sessions were well attended. The training sessions not only provide new learning techniques but also a time to be with old friends. The memorial week-end training session, featured alumni staff member Pete "Woody" Kirchner, a seasoned trainer with extensive wilderness experience and a former Outward Bound instructor. Woody created a fun atmosphere as he presented serious information. Also, helping with the training session was Ruben "Rubi" Rojas. Our spring training session was rated "one of the best."

Lion Meadows

Lion Meadows has become a second home for many of us. It is the tranquility and restfulness of the Sierras that makes it such a great place. At Lion Meadows, we do not have the common luxuries of a modern-day camp. The fact that we cook our own food on a wood-burning stove, collect our own firewood, and live in a rustic environment, allows for an inner tranquility to set in. The work that we create at Lion Meadows reaches an instinctual desire and need to be productive and responsible individuals. It is our hope that the inner rewards the young Lioneers receive from these experiences allow them to go into their own environments and be equally productive and responsible individuals.

Meadow's message”

Worker "Pow Wow"

The word "pow wow" is Native American for gathering. Last spring an outstanding group of young staff members met at the camp office to discuss their future as staff members and other issues related to leadership development. The highlight of the meeting was a water ski trip to Lake Piru. Alumni staff member Victor "Puma" Castro piloted his beautiful boat around the lake as a few brave souls weathered the icy cold water.

Area Camper Meetings

A new twist to an old idea. As part of the winter follow up program, Dodger and Bravo provided an opportunity for campers to meet and talk about their camp experience as it relates to their lives today. Dodger states, "it is a chance for us to get in touch with the campers and their selectors in there respective communities."

"Climb 'Til Your Dreams Comes True"

Often your tasks will be many,
And more than you think you can do . . .
Often the road will be rugged
And the hills insurmountable, too . . .
But always remember, the hills ahead
Are never as steep as they seem,
And with Faith in your heart start upward
And climb 'til you reach your dream,
For nothing in life that is worthy
Is ever too hard to achieve
If you have the Faith to believe . . .
For faith is a force that is greater
Than knowledge or power or skill
And many defeats turn to triumph
If you trust in God's wisdom and will . . .
For faith is a mover of mountains
There's nothing that God cannot do,
So start out today with Faith in your heart
And "climb 'til your dream comes true"!
