Season's Greetings

from the

PYLES BOYS CAMP

This special Pylet comes to you as a reminder of all the experiences shared by Pyles campers, staff, and friends during 1983. This marked the 35th summer for Pyles camp where over 14,000 boys have shared the adventure of life in the High Sierras.

For you campers, this was a year of challenge and growth. I trust you are striving to keep the Pyles Camp Spirit alive in all that you do. It has been a thrill to see many of you at the recent Reunions and to hear how well you are doing. We enjoy receiving your letters telling us how you felt about camp.

Here at the Camp Office, Peanut (our Office Manager) and I are ready and available to help if you need a friend.

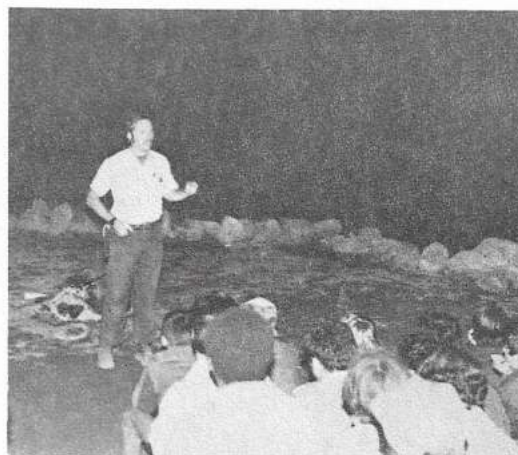

I hope this has been a great year for you and that 1984 will be even better.

Yours in the Camp Spirit,

Colonel

GOOD LUCK TO YOU ALL!!!

The Giant Sequoia, Big Tree, or Sierra Redwood, is the largest of all living things on earth, as well as being among the oldest, some over 3000 years old! Most Pyles Campers saw some magnificent examples of these rare trees on their hike down the Freeman Creek Trail and on their long horse ride. These trees grow freely in this part of the Sierra and nowhere else in the world!

The MONARCH BUTTERFLY, a familiar orange and black insect seen often in the Camp area, feeds on various types of milkweeds while in its white, yellow and black striped caterpillar stage. Then it forms a green chrysalis or pupa, from which emerges the well-known adult. This butterfly is common throughout the United States and into Canada. Each Fall they migrate thousands of miles south to winter in Mexico, making the return journey in the Spring.

GREAT JOB, GUYS!!!

At Christmas time we see a lot of Mistletoe for sale as a sign of happiness and good cheer. But in the wild, the several kinds of mistletoes to be found are actually parasites, living off the juices of other plants, and sometimes becoming so thick that they kill their host plant! The waxy white berries are poisonous to humans, but several kinds of animals and birds are able to eat them.

CONGRATULATIONS!!!

At dusk, just as we started our campfire each evening, many of you may have seen the dark forms of bats flittering above. The bats in the Camp area are all insect-eaters, and are therefore beneficial to us. We have no vampire bats, and bats do not get tangled up in peoples' hair, as an old folk tale would have you believe.

They sleep by day in caves, rock crevices, trees and old buildings, and like all wild animals should not be handled or disturbed.

SIXTH SESSION

BEST OF LUCK TO ALL 1983 HONOR CAMPERS

Stinging Nettle is a plant that is common in the Camp area. It is easily recognized by its gray-green, toothed leaves, fuzzy-looking stems, and greenish flower clusters. It grows to 6 feet tall or more, in moist areas. The "hairs" can cause a painful sting, which is only temporary. If thoroughly boiled, this plant can be eaten and is high in some vitamins.

LION MEADOWS

Lion Meadows is a 120 acre parcel of land in the middle of the Golden Trout Wilderness area, belonging to Pyles Boys Camp and used as a special place for a second-year experience for some Campers. To be selected for the Lion Meadows experience, a Camper must have done well enough in his first year group at the Main Camp to have obtained the recommendation of his counselor. Then he may receive an application in the mail the following winter. About 200 such applications will be sent out this year, but there is only room for 60 Lioneers each summer! After all the applications are returned, Colonel and the Lion Meadows Director will go over all of them, and determine who they will invite to be Lioneers, or alternates in case a first choice cannot make it for some reason. To receive an invitation to attend Lion Meadows is truly an honor!

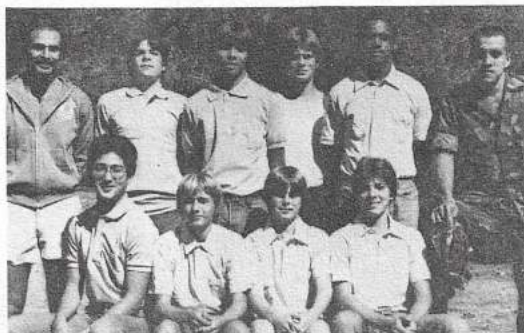

In 1983, our Lion Meadows Director was Sarge (left), who enjoyed a great summer there in the back country. Living in Lion Meadows means taking care of all your own chores, such as cooking on the wood stove and maintaining the Camp. You sleep under the stars at night, drink right from the clear waters of the stream, work, play and learn in the sunshine. Lioneers who show exceptional potential are often invited to come back to the Main Camp to be a worker on the staff.

There are also work projects to be done, such as those that were done this summer: building a log cabin, using old-time tools and methods; setting up a flagpole; building a new chapel; repairing fences and a bridge; making wood furniture and clearing trails.

It can be a lot of work, but very satisfying to those who go to Lion Meadows. And those people are, after all, very special people indeed!

We congratulate those who accomplished so much at Lion Meadows this year, and look forward to another successful summer in 1984!

FIRST SESSION: Rubi (Counselor), Kris Herd, Kevin Upton, Terry Schroder, Albert Porter, Ranger (Counselor), Tim Gomez, Buddy Mills, Shane Jett, Jeff Aguilar.

FIFTH SESSION: Alley (Counselor), Chris Santucci, Yurii Seals, Bryan Rivera, Jim Chase, Ted Taylor, Brad Miller, Mike Heath, Brian Akins, Robert Velasquez, Gabriel Ruiz, Liberty (Counselor).

In addition to the Lioneer program, Lion meadows was utilized for the second year as the site of Pyles Leadership Training. Eleven staff members who were considered as having the potential to become good counselors were given a two-week session in which they received further instruction in first aid, cooking, preparing for outcamps, emergency procedures, games, techniques, and other counseling skills.

This program was started last year, in order to assure that our counseling staff would be as good as it possibly could be. Last year it was attended by fourteen staff members, and was headed up and organized by Sarge and Chain.

This year it was instructed by Sarge and by Rocky (I), a counselor and Assistant Director (as well as other positions) who has been with the Camp since 1969.

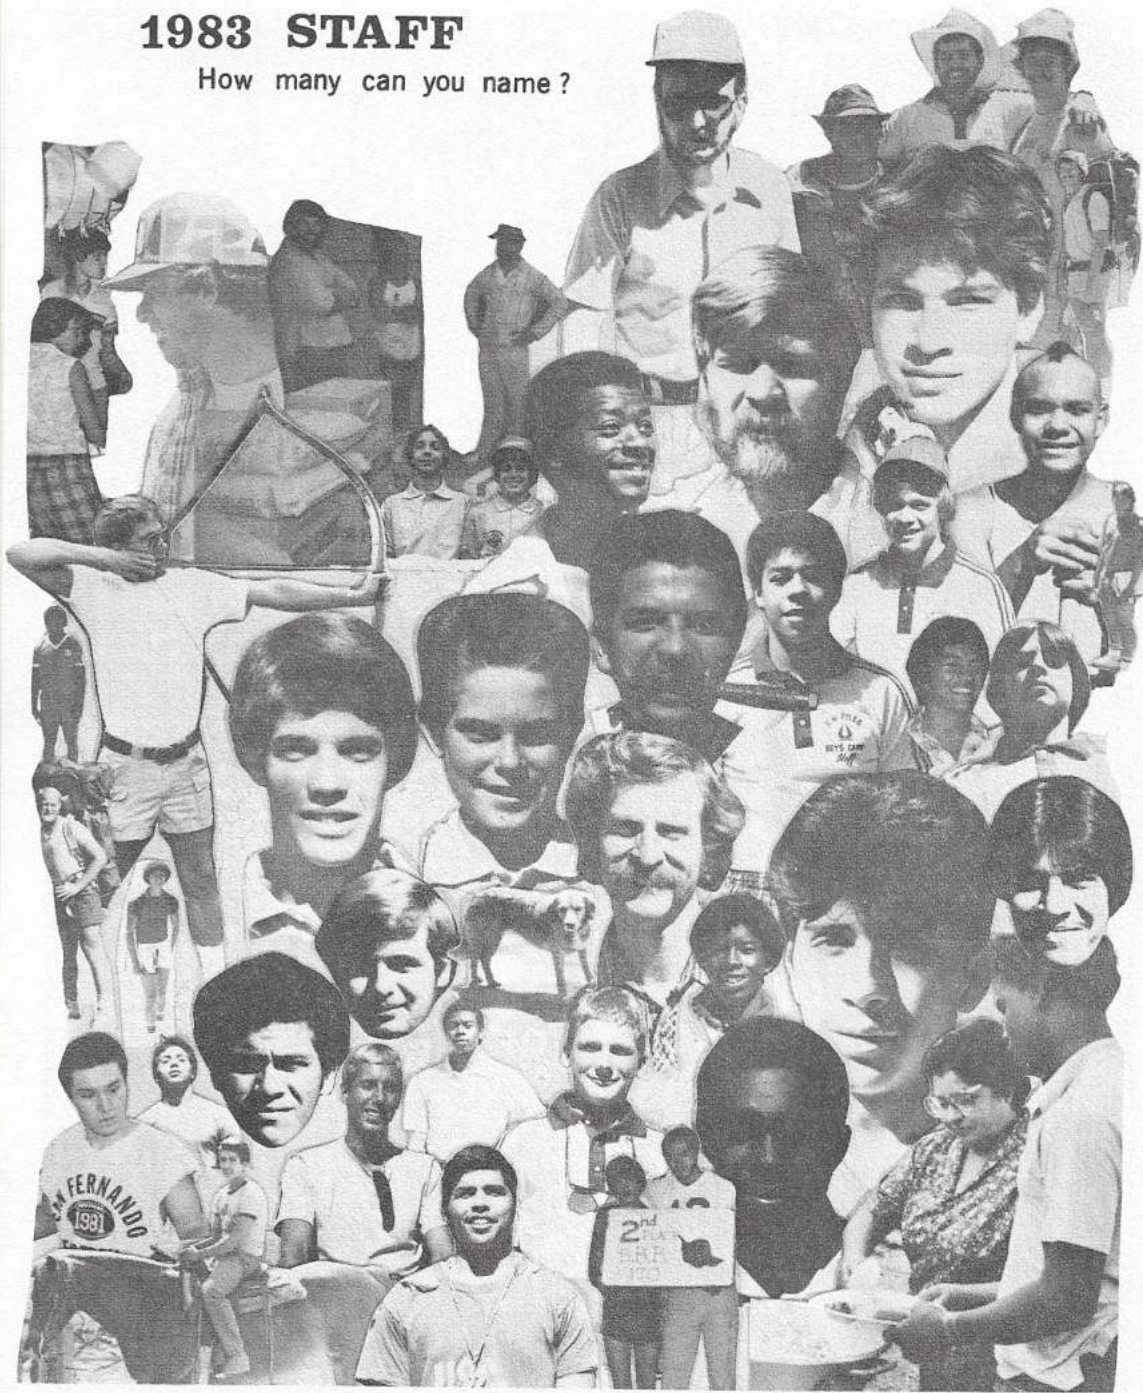

The P.L.T. program has been a great success both years, and the quality of our counseling staff reflects the quality of the training they have received.

1983 PLT's (FOURTH SESSION): Rocky (Counselor), Snoopy, Mercury, Fly, Gumby, Chuy, Salty, Tiger, Eagle, Dreamer, Hawkeye, Panther, Sarge (Counselor).
